Bedtime Story For the Little Ones Good Roads "Uncle Wigily's Thanksgiving."

With Especial Reference to

Concrete

. There is a feeling among the taxpayers of El Paso County that the County cannot afford to experiment with roadways. It is for this very reason that the use of concrete is urged. Concrete for interurban highways is not an experiment; it is a proved fact.

> There are plenty of concrete roads, in various parts of the United States, that have been down six to ten years and even longer. An ordinary form of road, in the course of ten years, requires a good deal of money spent on it for maintenance and repairs. Concrete roads, properly laid, have proved that they require almost no maintenance.

Profit by the Experience of Others

The "Good Roads" movement is not peculiar to El Paso County but is affecting the whole country. In California especially, where climatic and other conditions are very similar to El Paso, concrete has been thoroughly tried out on interurban highways and has been found the best material for the purpose.

Where Concrete Has the Advantage

The big argument in favor of using concrete for El Paso County roadways is found in the very low maintenance cost. In various states where concrete has been widely used it has been found that an expenditure of $20 to $30 per mile per year will keep concrete roads in good order, while other forms of roads require from $500 to $1000 per mile per year. These figures speak for themselves.

Building for All Time

If El Paso County decides to adopt concrete mads, the County will be building for all time. A concrete road, properly designed and scientifically constructed, will stand for literally hundreds of years, a lasting monument to the wisdom of its builders.

We thank you, one and all, for the extremely happy and prosperous year you have given us

Ever so many of our good friends have remarked time and again at the wonderful growth of our establishment, and when we stop to review this, the first year of our existence in El Paso, we, too, are struck with our wonderful development.

Hence, our sincere thanks to you, Mr. and Mrs. El Paso, for you certainly deserve the credit for the major portion of our success—You stood by us when we struggled with a very small and incomplete stock in a small Mills Street store room, encouraging us at all times to greater effort, overlooking our early mistakes and the fact that frequently we did not have everything that you desired to purchase-Yes, Siree! You stuck to us through thick and thin until we could organize our forces, improve and complete our stocks and until we moved into our fine large store-that was your part towards our phenomenal success, and it was indeed a big part.

Our part has been to at all times rive you only the BEST STAND-ARD GOODS at RIGHT PRICES and THE BEST SERVICE POSSIBLE. Therefore, kind Sir and kind Madam, accept the sincere thanks of "QUALITY JACK" and "SERVICE FRED" and continue to expect a square Inal.
